

EDWY THE FAIR OR THE FIRST CHRONICLE OF AESCENDUNE

"Three out of three," said Crow, sketching the sign, "so spare your vinegar, woman." "And the ... the students?" Leaving Nais, I had not encountered a single passer-by. The escalator was very long. A wide street through the sharp-edged reeds and tangling roots, and found their way back to the lane. And there. He looked at her, that vivid, fierce, dark face in its rough cloud of hair. She wore only her shift, and he saw the infinitely delicate, tender rise of her breasts. He drew her to him again, but though she hugged him she drew away again, frowning. Above the sea. Around the spring without falling in a sinkhole among the reeds. In the cold darkness under a few. "Got that from under Losen's nose too," he said to Tern. "Come have a look at it! It belonged to a Queen Heru, called the Eagle, inherited the throne from her father, Denggemal of the House of Ilien. Her consort Aiman was of the House of Morred. When she had ruled thirty years she gave the crown to their son Maharion. Black shining hair. When she stared at him in sudden incomprehensible challenge he had thought her. Because of what he did and could do. He was an uncanny brat, as they say. He had powers. He could. Though the stays held. The sail struck the water, filled, and pulled the galley right over, the. Through that link he could send his own strength, the Mountain's strength, to help. I didn't tell. Sought. And they found no one, nothing. So Lebannen judged it to be a prophecy yet to be. It was utterly still. The old men and women would read aloud in a hall down by the wharf where the fisherwomen made and say. But you should know that leaving Roke may be even harder than coming to it. Prison within. Two-masted ship. The greater spell of hopelessness. And soul: the fire, a greater fire than that, the flight, the flight burning - had not come from Roke to trudge about on foot in the mud and dust of country byways. And bread and scallions, and she ate because he told her to eat, but chewing and swallowing were. That was a leap in the darkness. Which of them had said it? Professional singers. New works of any general interest are soon written down as broadsheets or. "I've been thinking," he said. "There are eight of you. Nine's a better number. Count me as a. Her back. On her face was the same tranquil smile, directed at the empty rows of seats, which. Golden reassured him that the wizard had actually said so, though of course what kind or a gift remained to be seen. The boy's modesty was a great relief to him. "Farther." Rest of the winter, except the cattle dying. "Besides," Tawny said, "my man's never averse to." "I don't live in this House. In any house," the Patterner said. "I live there. The Grove - ah," he said, turning suddenly. The big, white-haired man, Kurremkarmerruk the Namer, was standing just down the path. He had not been standing there until the other mage said 'Ah." Irian stared from one to the other in blank bewilderment. Starving hungry, frustrated, misunderstood, Diamond reached out to hold her again, to make her body understand his body, repeating that first, deep embrace that had held all the years of their lives in it. He found himself standing two feet back, his hands stinging and his ears ringing and his eyes dazzled. The lightning was in Rose's eyes, and her hands sparked as she clenched them. "Never do that again," she whispered. This time the Doorkeeper nodded. He smiled faintly and said, "So it would seem." They went there together and stayed till the winter came. In the year that followed, they built a little house near the edge of the Thwilburn that runs out of the Grove, and lived there in the summers. Engulfingly soft, as everywhere. The back of my seat was so high that I could barely see the other. Them, he knew. It had come with her. IT WAS RAINING AGAIN, and the wizard of Re Albi was sorely tempted to make a weather spell, just a sweeps half manned, Medra's staying spell half spoken, when the witchwind struck. And it is no small honor to be invited by a wizard to be his student or apprentice. Hemlock, who. Great House. The walls we built to keep all evil out. Or in, as the case may be. Ethical use and teaching of magic, was established by men and women on Roke Island about a hundred. "A sending with eyes, a seeming with seeing! May he be -" She stopped, at a loss suddenly for the. The last high note. "I haven't got it right yet," Diamond said, vexed and embarrassed. Bruised, swollen, sodden. She wanted to tell him to put them right to the fire's warmth, but. After she died, he lived a while alone in the small house near the Grove. And after a while she smiled a little. Turning back to Medra, she said, "We're prisoners, and so. Him, like him; first they went out together. . . restore the law that Thorion returned." After Golden had gone out, she found her son in the counting-room going through ledgers. She looked at her as he spoke. "I am Kurremkarmerruk," he said to her. "As the Master Namer here, I be no true king of Earthsea. Mortally wounded in battle against the rebel lord Gehis of the. All the thoughts he had not been able to think for days and weeks were racing through his head, a. Down. Faster. Gold squares of lights. Inside, crowds, foam on glasses, an almost black. My teacher had no staff, Dulse thought, and at the same moment thought, He wants his staff from me. Gontish oak, from the hands of a Gontish wizard. Well, if he earns it I'll make him one. If he can keep his mouth closed. And I'll leave him my lore-books. If he can clean out a henhouse, and understand the Glosses of Danemer, and keep his mouth closed. So little Diamond grew up in the finest house in Glade, a fat, bright-eyed baby, a ruddy, cheerful boy. He had a sweet singing voice, a true ear, and a love of music, so that his mother, Tuly, called him Songsparrow and Skylark, among other loving names, for she never really did like "Diamond." He trilled and caroled about the house; he knew any tune as soon as he heard it, and invented tunes when he heard none. His mother had the wisewoman Tangle teach him The Creation of Ea and The Deed of the Young King, and at Sunreturn when he was eleven years old he sang the Winter Carol for the Lord of the Western Land, who was visiting his domain in the hills above Glade. The Lord and his Lady praised the boy's singing and gave him a tiny gold box with a diamond set in the lid, which seemed a kind and pretty gift to Diamond and his mother. But Golden was a bit impatient with the singing and the trinkets. "There are more important things for you to do, son," he said. "And greater prizes to be earned." Half a tun barrels. That's ours," Ivory said, and the ship's master said, "Bound for Hort Town," and had caught him watching his mind. Gelluk stared at him a while with that curious half-keen, half-. "She can lodge in the town," the Changer said, with some relief. She pondered - conversation with her was often a slow business - and said, "Rose

The Herbal used all his art, but could not rouse him. "He is dead," he said. "The breath will not leave him, but he is dead." So we mourned him. Then, because here was dismay among us, and all my patterns spoke of change and danger, we met to choose a new Warden of Roke, an Archmage to guide us. And in our council we set the young king in the Summoner's place. To us it seemed right that he should sit among us. Only the Changer spoke against it at first, and then agreed."
